

Position Description

Mobile Application Developer

Organization

Founded in 1939, Nature Canada's mission is to protect and conserve wildlife and habitats in Canada by engaging people and advocating on behalf of nature. Our strategies are based on sound science and a passion for nature. Our focus is on effecting change on issues of national significance, including wilderness protection, threatened species and connecting people to nature.

Job Summary

The Mobile Application Developer provides support to the Development Director and Development Assistant. The position will oversee research, production, coordination and logistics management for the mobile calendar application set to be available in 2015.

Job Description and Duties

Pay Rate

To be discussed with the employer upon contact.

Hours

To be discussed with the employer upon contact.

Support to the Development

Specific Tasks include:

- Research, production, coordination and logistics management
- Programming/ Coding as required for the mobile application
- Other duties as required

Summary of Qualifications and Experience

- Entered in a College or university level program.
- Knowledge and/or experience of mobile application development.
- Excellent personal skills.
- Exceptional organizational and communications skills.
- A proven ability to respond professionally to written materials as required.
- Computer and Mobile literacy
- Ability to prioritize job tasks, problem solve and focusing on deadlines.
- Strong team player.

For questions or to present your interest in the position, please contact Nicole Middleton at nmiddleton@naturecanada.ca or at (613)562-3447 x229.

Deadline for applications: June 13th, 2014.